

Arnold Pompoš Ph.D.

Fermilab,
MS 318
Batavia, IL 60510

Phone: (630) 840-8410
Fax: (630) 840-2968
pompos@fnal.gov

Top 10 Reasons to Hire Arnold to Industry.

Has good communication skills: Able to present topics to a wide spectrum of audiences. Gave scientific presentations at conferences as well as popular lectures to general public.

Honest, reliable & with integrity: Devoted to overcoming possible obstacles. Will not simply give up. Got positive evaluation from employers.

Teamwork: Currently working in a 600 member international collaboration. At the same time taking responsibilities in smaller subgroups.

Interpersonal: Capable of listening to and respecting the opinion of others. Able to discuss differences. Accepts advice.

Highly motivated and innovative: Eager to get results. Goes forward with own ideas.

Has very strong work ethic: Trained in America's premier high-energy physics laboratory, where over 200 world-wide institutions synchronize their work.

Thinks analytically: Performed data analysis in search for new physics phenomena.

Adaptable: Able to quickly adopt and adapt to new computer systems and need software.

Received the highest level of education. Teaching, research and communication experience: Ph.D. in high-energy physics from Purdue University, M.S. in Theoretical Physics from Prague, Czech Republic. Taught at Purdue. Was rated by students as their best teacher. Research conducted at Fermilab. Worked as a consultant for the Office of Public Affairs at Fermilab.

Speaks five languages: A culturally literate translator always proves useful.